

Dear Sir:

I consider phone telemarketing an obvious intrusion of ones home privacy. When I worked rotating (night) shifts, I couldn't get a good days sleep. Which ultimately affected my work performance. There needs to be a limit imposed on this practice.

Sincerely, Robert R Arsenault